Authorisation to help monitor shipments without hurting market supply

Our Bureau

New Delhi: India, on Thursday, launched a new online system of authorisation for imports of laptops, tablets and personal computers, aiming to monitor shipments of such hardware without hurting market supply.

Director general of Foreign Trade (DGFT) Santosh Kumar Sarangi said that policy tweaks seek to correct the distortions of these products to ensure that they were coming from "trusted" sources. The import authorisation will remain valid till September 30, 2024.

An industry expert said around 100 applications are coming with the request for import of ICT products which would be processed now after the launch of the system.

"We need data to see if imports are coming from one source. We need to monitor them as 2-3 countries such as China, Singapore and Hong Kong account for more than 80% of these imported goods," said an official.

The new system will come into force from November 1 but importers were allowed to apply for import authorisation from Thursday. There will be no restrictions based on quantity, value, country of origin. The government will not reject import requests and will only use the data for monitoring, the official said.

"There is no withdrawal of any notification, only clarification and policy tweaks have been done," Sarangi said.

In August, the government placed these products in the restricted imports category, making license mandatory to import them.

A day later, following a meeting of electronics firm executives with senior officials from the IT ministers as well as the DGFT, the government extended the deadline for implementation until October 31.

"Though an online system has been put in place, these IT hardware products are still "under the restricted" category and "there is no change in their" Sarangi said, adding that importers would not be required to register to seek an authorisation.

The importers are allowed to apply for multiple authorisations. While seeking the authorisation, an importer will have to provide import item quantity and details of past import, export and turnover. India imported IT products worth $8.7 billion in the 2022-23 financial year (FY23) against $10.3 billion in FY22 and $7.1 billion in FY21.

Poor health not for bail, HC denies relief to Balaji

Chennai: The Madras high court ruled that poor health cannot be used as a basis for bail in money-laundering cases and denied bail to V. Senthil Balaji, a minister in the DMK-led Tamil Nadu government, on Thursday, reports Suresh Kumar. K. Balaji was arrested by the enforcement directorate (ED) on June 14 under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) in connection with a cash-for-jobs scam during his tenure as the transport minister from 2017 to 2022.

Court upholds release of electronic devices seized from 'The Wire' editors

New Delhi: A Delhi court has dismissed Delhi Police's plea against a judicial order releasing the electronic devices seized from editors of 'The Wire' during searches conducted last year. In an order dated October 18, additional sessions judge Pratap Singh Rai told the court said, "The press is considered the pillar of our great democracy. If it is not allowed to function and operate independently, it would cause serious injury to the foundations of our democracy."

of the devices till conclusion of the investigation or disposal of the case, Judge Rajawat said Delhi Police was conscious "under hardship" on the editors by the continuous seizure of electronic devices. It was also impinging upon their fundamental right of freedom of profession as well as freedom of speech and expression, the court added.

The court noted that the CMM court order not only safeguarded the interest of the editors, but also ensured that they are duty-bound to report the devices safe from tampering. "The impugned order does not terminate the proceedings, but the investigation and trial, if any, will go on until it is clear that no further submission of discovery report and if charge sheet is filed in either acquittal or conviction. The impugned order does not decide any right but only the interim custody of the devices till conclusion of investigation or disposal of the case," the court said.

Justice G. Jayachandran pronounced the order for refusing bail. "The health report of the petitioner does not appear to be a medical condition which could be taken care of only if he is released on bail," the court said. "That apart, his past conduct, his present position as minister without portfolio and the absence of any brother Ashok Kumar, coupled with the attack on the income tax officials, all cumulatively leads to an irretrievable conclusion that...
