Poor health not a reason for bail, HC denies relief to Balaji

Chennai: The Madras high court ruled that poor health cannot be used as a basis for bail in money-laundering cases and denied bail to V Senthil Balaji, a minister in the DMK-led Tamil Nadu government, on Thursday, reports Sureshkumar.K.

Balaji was arrested by the enforcement directorate (ED) on June 14 under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) in connection with a cash-for-jobs scam during his tenure as the transport minister from 2011 to 2015 in the AIADMK government. Justice G Jayachandran provided four reasons for refusing bail. "The health report of the petitioner does not appear to be a medical condition which could be taken care of only if he is released on bail," the court said. "That apart, his past conduct, his present position as minister without portfolio and the absconderce of his brother Ashok Kumar, coupled with the attack on the income tax officials, all cumulatively leads to an irresistible conclusion that, certainly he will disturb/hard

Court upholds release of electronic devices seized from 'The Wire' editors

Vineet.Upadhyay@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: A Delhi court has dismissed Delhi Police's plea against a magisterial court's order releasing the electronic devices seized from editors of 'The Wire' during searches conducted last year.

In an order dated October 18, additional sessions judge Pawan Singh Rajawat of Tis Hazari courts said, "The press is considered the fourth pillar of our great democracy. If it is not allowed to function and operate independently, it would cause serious injury to the foundations of our democracy."

On September 29, the CMM court had said there was no reasonable ground for not releasing the devices to the portal's founding editors Siddharth Varadarajan, M K Venu, Sidharth Bhatia, deputy editor Jahnavi Sen and producer-cum-business head Mithun Kidambi.

Stating that the CMM court order does not decide any right but only the interim custody of the devices till conclusion of the investigation or disposal of the case, judge Rajawat said Delhi Police was causing "undue hardship" to the editors by the continuous seizure of electronic devices. It was also impinging upon their fundamental right of freedom of profession as well as freedom of speech and expression, the court added.

The court noted that the CMM court order not only safeguarded the interest of the editors, but also ensured that they are duty-bound to keep the devices safe from tampering.

"The impugned order does not terminate the proceedings, but the investigation and trial. If any, will go on until it (sic) terminates in either submission of closure report and if chargesheet is filed in either acquittal or conviction. The impugned order does not decide any right but only the interim custody of the devices till conclusion of investigation or disposal of the case," the court said.
